Norman A. Laub

Dedication

With deep regret the students and faculty note the departure of Mr. Norman A. Laub from the halls of Northampton Area High School. Through the passing years, Mr. Laub has become a symbol of stability and progress at Northampton, for it was through his efforts that the school's varied curriculum and excellent athletic program were made available. To many people he was the man who directed the ever-increasing lunch traffic, the man who enforced the school dress code, and the man to whom all problems could be taken. No crisis, large or small, was denied the right of a fair hearing. The faculty especially remembers him for the help he gave them in times of stress and trouble. The students remember him as the man who taught them manners, dress, and school pride. Students and faculty look forward to working with the new principal, Mr. Robert E. Mushrush, who has assumed the never-ending and trying problems associated with being principal of a relatively large high school; but both moan the retirement of one of Northampton's foremost educational leaders. Both thank him for a job well done and wish him lasting success in his future endeavors. It is to this educational leader that the Amptennian staff of 1969 willingly and gratefully dedicates this book.

School Board

The Northampton Area School Board is the official policy-making body of the school district. It exercises local control within the statutory regulations of the state which state that only actions of the Board, determined in legally held meetings, have any validity or authority. This does not mean that this is an autonomous body because each board member may be approached by the adults of the community with complaints, criticisms, and requests. The board member then reports the problems to the superintendent who investigates the situation and reports on his findings at a later meeting where they are discussed and voted on if necessary. Finally, once a decision has been made it is the job of administrators, teachers, and other school personnel to enforce these decisions.

Albert L. Henry
Superintendent of Schools

As superintendent of the school district, Mr. Henry keeps a watchful eye on all affairs pertaining to the Northampton Schools. His outstanding capabilities and interesting ideas in administration work have added to the progressive educational facilities of Northampton High.

David G. Olson
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

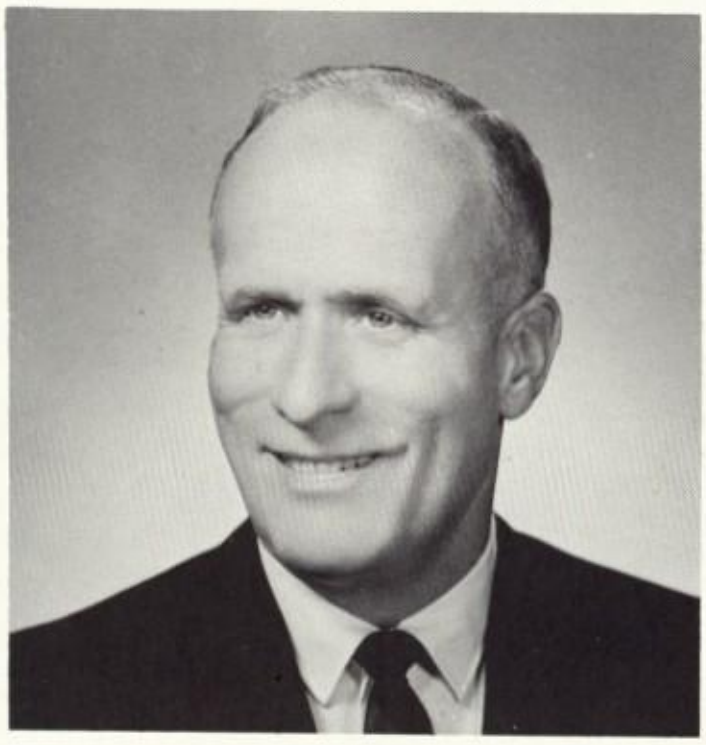
Exuberance marks Mr. Olson as the man of the school. Cheerful and charming, he keeps his task of supervising the school under control by formulating programs to aid the needs of every student in the district. He believes in the expression of talent and the use of each student's potential.

Robert E. Mushrush
Principal

Though a newcomer to our school, Mr. Mushrush, as our new principal, has given us numerous ideas which have benefited the students tremendously. We feel confident that he will perform his duties well, handle his responsibilities excellently, and lead the seniors superbly.

Alfred A. Laubach
Administrative Assistant

As the man of the students, Mr. Laubach devotes most of his time to achieve his goal of understanding. Uncomplaining, he does his work with cheerfulness and a unique sense of humor that keeps everyone smiling. Through him the students have been given the chance to voice their opinions and many of their problems.



FACULTY

Mrs. Geiger, Mrs. Schadt, and Mrs. Marx

Mrs. McCann, Mrs. Fink (Chairman), and Mrs. Hauke

Business Department

Clacking typewriters and purring adding machines are the sounds emitted from a busy business classroom. Students are given the opportunity to practice on the types of machines they will use when they accept a business-related job after graduation. Practice, however, is not merely limited to the correct procedure of operating a business machine. It also includes the relationship of employer to employee through the assignment of students to the various teachers. Such experience, both in and out of the classroom, prepares those students taking the course for the obstacles they will encounter after graduation from high school.

Science Department

"Can't you follow directions?" is often heard in the science classroom as experiment after experiment follow each other in a never-ending succession of frustration. But, this frustration becomes satisfaction as the student is given the opportunity to experience old and new concepts of science. In addition to experimentation, students are encouraged to study on their own, allowed to use intricate scientific equipment, and have the guidance of excellent teachers. A science course at Northampton High School is an experience which will long be remembered by some students as their most valuable high school experiment.

Mr. Snyder (Chairman), Mr. Kinter, and Mr. Howell

Mr. Dischinat, Mr. Kindt, and Mr. Wogenrich

Mr. Lisetski (Chairman), Mr. Druckenmiller, and Mr. Kovacs

Mr. Sawarynski, Mr. Sabo, Mr. Pany, and Mr. Wolf

Miss Corgan, Mr. Witemeyer, and Mrs. Oplinger

Social Studies Department

History is a reflection of man's past. Through the study of history, man's previous mistakes and successes are examined in the hope that future generations will learn from man's past. But, this does not mean that history is a dull subject. Students see history come alive at Northampton. They hear Marx and his philosophies; they see Lincoln and his fairness; they understand Washington and his problems. No subject is more fascinating than that which proposes to study man. Students are truly fortunate to be able to take one of the many enlightening and interesting history courses that are offered at the high school level.

Foreign Language Department

Spain, France, and Germany are vividly introduced to students at NHS in the Foreign Language Department. Through the use of tape recorders, film strips, posters, and other audio-visual aides, the students are mesmerized with the language of their choice. They soon realize language is a code which has to be learned before communication can ensue. Once this tool has been mastered the student is able to appreciate the literature, culture, and philosophy of the country that the language represents. This meeting of another culture betters the individual and prepares him to face and understand all the international problems that are a part of today's progressive society.

Mr. Shoemaker (Chairman), Miss Laubach, and Mr. Kresge

Miss Hilberg and Mr. Kleppinger (Chairman)

Art Department

Man's creative endeavors are allowed to receive their full development in art class. Such development takes the form of sculpturing, charcoal, oils, water colors, and wood carvings. It is hoped that students who have ability in art will consider their art class as a starting point for the development of their already pronounced talent. For those who are not quite as fortunate, art class gives them a chance to express their feelings in both an aesthetically pleasing and socially acceptable manner. Thus, each student is given the sense of accomplishment that is so important to his development as an individual.

English Department

"To be, or not to be: that is the question." is a quotation no senior will forget because of the enormous amount of emphasis our English Department puts on great literature and its comments on life. Through the study of such statements, students are given an opportunity to broaden their educational horizons by becoming familiar with such great writers as Hemingway, Faulkner, Keats, and Shakespeare. These literary giants enable a student to compare his own views to those views of literary men who have been held in high esteem for many years. Such exposure helps to better prepare a student to face the world in which he lives.

Mr. Wall (Chairman), Miss Wesley, and Mr. Szabo

Mrs. McCann, Mr. Dalton, and Mrs. Santee

Miss Younger, Mr. Boxer, and Miss Karg

Mr. Saul, Mr. Newton (Chairman), and Mr. Schmauch

Mr. Newhart, Mr. Diefenderfer, and Mr. Lilly

Math Department

Math class is a welcome reprieve from the chaotic world in which students live. Parallel lines are equidistant, seven times nine equals sixty three, and right angles contain ninety degrees are facts which do not change from day to day or year to year. Idealism predominates in mathematics and the Math Department can verify that Plato would have approved of this concept. Aside from the philosophical note, solving a problem correctly gives a student a great sense of satisfaction. Both this idealistic nature of math and this sense of satisfaction make mathematics an exciting and challenging subject.

Mr. Schneider, Mr. Lerch, Mrs. Obrecht, and Mr. Kinter

Guidance Department

Helping each student make major course decisions and deciding on what college or occupation to enter is the job of the Guidance Department. Group and individual tests, and counseling are the major tools used by the guidance personnel. However, the guidance counselors are quick to say that all teachers are counselors in some sense, and that no student should be afraid to discuss his problems with any teacher. The students of NHS are very lucky to have such help in these very influential and important years of their lives.

Driver Education Department

To many students, learning how to drive a car is more important than receiving an "A" in a major subject. Although many other students will disagree with this statement, the impact of learning how to drive a car cannot be diminished. To this end, the driver education teachers at Northampton attempt to teach each student how to safely drive a car.

Mr. Fujita and Mr. Bartholomew

Physical Education Department

The parts of the eye and the muscles of the body combine with gym equipment and basketballs to complete the Physical Education Department. This department is also responsible for the coaching staffs of the various sports at Northampton. From a gym class to a health class to the varsity sports, the Physical Education Department is in the limelight combining their talents and the students for a well-rounded education.

Mr. Oplinger, Miss Kremus, Miss Yelenics, Mr. Altrichter, Mr. Erdosy

Mr. Becker

Music

Like gym or driving, music is another welcome addition to the curriculum at Northampton. In music class, students are allowed to express their emotional feelings in an appropriate manner. The lack of pressure for a better grade helps to expand the feeling of excitement many students have for music class. Lastly music, like some literature, also raises man above the problems of life and gives him a chance to live in a type of dream world for forty minutes.

Library

Reference books, magazines, atlases, and fiction are a part of what the library contains. Research papers, book reports, and escapes from study halls are the reasons to use the library. However, books and assignments are only part of the contributions Mrs. Cann and the library aides make to the school for they also furnish a functional place to work and read.

Mrs. Cann

Vocational Department

Our school, in an attempt to help students adjust to adulthood, offers several courses in vocational subjects. Through the school's wood and printing shop, as well as the privilege of using the facilities of the Bethlehem School District, students who do not plan to continue their formal education can take course offerings that prepare them for a profitable occupation.

Mr. Reiff and Mr. Erdosy (Chairman)

Medical Department

Bandages, pills, and thermometers are the familiar items of the health room. Student health must precede classroom learning, and therefore students are permitted to use the available medical facilities. Many thanks are extended to the efforts of the Health Department in keeping the student body healthy.

Cafeteria Staff

The only place in our high school where students are really free of the pressures of the classroom is in the cafeteria. Here a student can relax while eating a nourishing and delicious meal, talk freely with his friends, tell some jokes, and exchange some of the local gossip and usual gripes. Because of this relaxed atmosphere, it is not surprising that most students agree that the best subject they have all day is lunch.

Miss Dornbach, Miss Schall, Miss Dornbach, and Miss Wernett

Secretarial Staff

Even though the secretaries have no classes to teach, the function they perform is as vital a part to the school's operation as any other individual's. They tabulate attendance forms, listen patiently to the excuses of the students, and do any additional work required by the teachers and students. Such uncomplaning devotion deserves a special note of thanks from both the students and faculty.

Custodial Staff

When you find a strange lock on your locker, where do you go for help? Or, when the room gets cold, where does the teacher send for heat? It is to the boiler room. The custodians form a very important element in the school. Without them, the school would be a maze of dirty floors and scrap paper. Generally speaking, the custodians make Northampton a better place to study and work.

Row 1: Mrs. Ebner, Mrs. Glendenmeyer, Mrs. Faust; row 2: Mr. Kilareski, Mr. Koehler, Mr. Barthol; missing: Mr. Milkovits.

A Message To The Seniors

Our days as students at Northampton have come to an end. Gone are the gay, carefree moments of high school. We are proud that we have completed our high school education successfully, and now we look to the future.

During the past few years we have worked together in increasing our knowledge and in enjoying activities. The time has come to use our acquired wisdom and maturity for molding our lives into something useful and secure. Many of us will seek jobs, others will enter the armed forces, and still others will continue their formal education at various colleges and universities. How well we do in this world is a challenge facing each of us as individuals.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to each one of you for all your efforts to make our senior high school days both enjoyable and fruitful. May your future endeavors bring you success and happiness.

A Message To The Juniors

We, the Class of 1969, have watched you mature and develop during your two years in senior high school. We feel that you are now capable of taking over the duties that you as seniors must perform. As seniors, the underclassmen will be looking to you for guidance, advice, and encouragement. It will be your responsibility to set a good example for them.

In numerous events and activities you will have to work together as a team. However, scholastic achievements and grades are the personal responsibility of each individual. As individuals, be optimistic and always think in a positive manner.

We trust that your last year in high school will be filled with much joy and happiness. May all your future endeavors meet with success.

FRESHMAN CLASS

A Message To The Freshmen

You, the Class of 1972, have a big task ahead. It will be your duty to reunite your class during your sophomore year. When in need of help, consult and listen to the upperclassmen for you can profit from their experience.

At many times your class must work together as a whole and at other times each individual must work alone. In school activities and class functions, your class must work like a team. As individuals, each person must work to get good grades. Be original, optimistic and persevering.

We, the Class of 1969, trust that you can meet the challenges of the coming years. May your high school years and future lives be filled with success and happiness.

ORGANIZATIONS

Amptennian

A clacking typewriter, unlimited dummy sheets, rulers, pencils, numerous erasers, and unidentified photographs are the mainstays of the yearbook room. It is another one of the bastions of creativity that abound in NHS. Although creativity is the goal of the yearbook staff, practical lessons are not slighted. Learning to draw a straight line, crop a picture, and type better are the staff's everyday tasks. The finished product is the yearbook — a combination of staff efforts, school activities, and school personnel.

Rifle Club

The purpose of the Rifle Club is to promote safety in the handling of weapons to teach the students to shoot properly and to give marksmen an opportunity to exhibit their abilities. Competitive matches with area schools are held on Northampton's excellent rifle range.

National Honor Society

The club that boasts its membership is comprised of outstanding students is the National Honor Society. As the name implies, the club is not only confined to NHS, but is a national organization with branches in most high schools. Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the by-words for the members of this society. This year's membership has tried to include students from all courses to make it a true honor society.

Library Aides

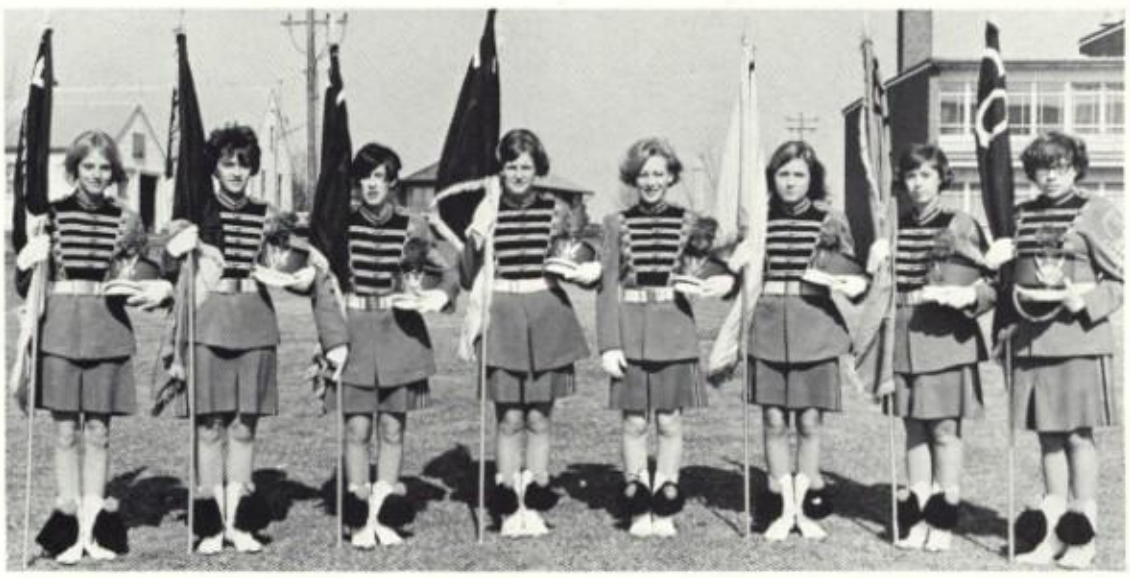
The library aides are a very important part of our library. Without these girls, many books, magazines, articles, and pamphlets would never be found. They are assistant librarians in the sense that they actually keep the library operating smoothly and efficiently. Through the efforts of these girls, the library remains the center of intellectual activities at NHS.

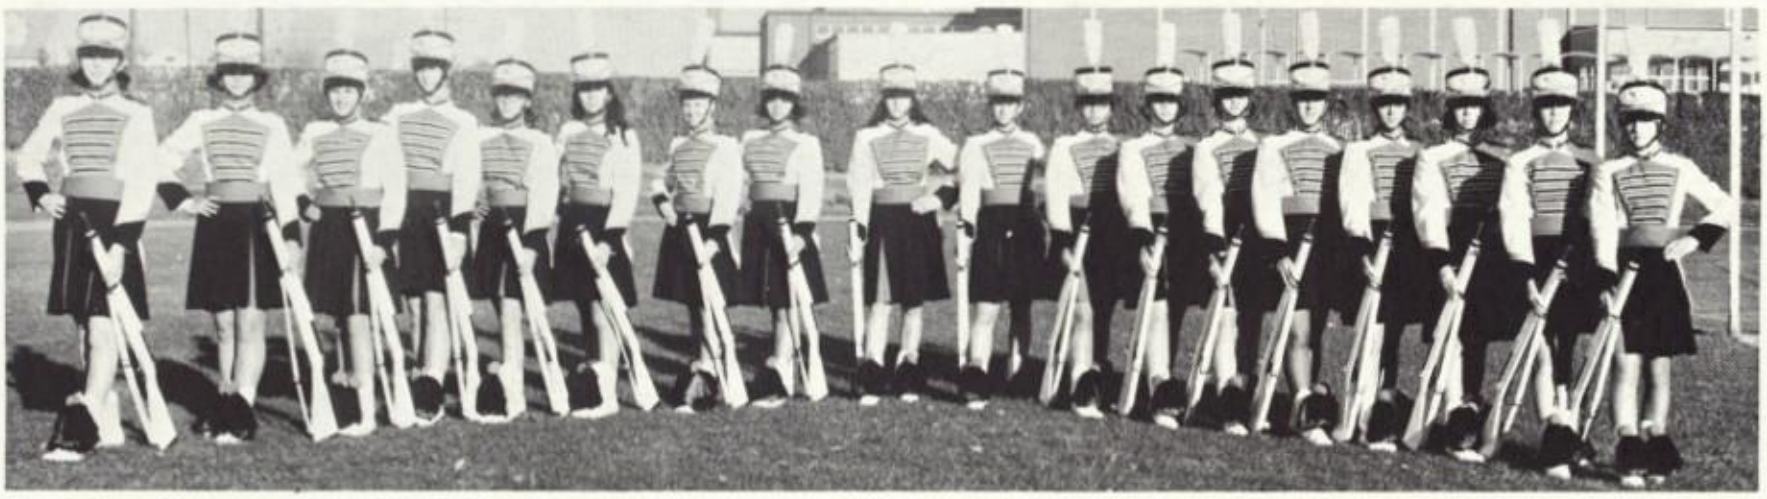
Future Secretaries of America

One of the few clubs at NHS with an all-girl membership is the Future Secretaries of America. This association strives to make better secretaries out of all its members. The two sponsors, Mrs. Geiger and Mrs. Fink, make sure that a girl can gain admission only by having a "B" average in school, a pleasing personality, the desire to accept responsibility, and a good character. The association sponsors field trips, lectures, panel discussions, and conferences which give a future secretary many extra-curricular opportunities to learn about her chosen profession.

Band

The great melody, the right harmony, and the stirring tempo, describe the matchless splendor of the band. Under the capable direction of Mr. Raymond S. Becker and the helpful assistance of the band staff, the band steps into competition after competition, capturing audiences as well as the titles to bring fame and prestige to Northampton High School. The Marching Unit has traveled from its own Cavalcade of Bands to the competition at Upper Moreland, Salisbury, and other area high schools. After the autumn football games, competition, and parades, the band must then begin to prepare for their annual Spring Concert. This concert displays the outstanding abilities of our band by showing that the students can play anything from the pop tunes of the Tijuana Brass to the classical numbers of Tchaikovsky. The band is truly an interesting and worthwhile activity for all music-loving students.





Cheerleaders

No athletic event is complete without cheering crowds, and this year's energetic squad provides the needed spirit. Through many long and tedious practices, the eight girls have become one of the best cheering squads in the Lehigh Valley. All the cheerleaders have the needed qualifications of co-operation, initiative, timing, coordination, and enthusiasm which they exhibit at NHS sports events.

Community Action Committee

A new club was initiated this year under the capable leadership of Mr. Martin Sabo. The club is called the Community Action Committee (CAC) and its name also serves as the club's main goal which is to help needy people in the community by holding such activities as bake sales and faculty basketball games. These modern crusaders are a welcome addition to the many other clubs offered to students at NHS.

N-Club

"N"ergy and "N" thusiasm are the key words for the N-Club. Spirit and hard work combine with new ideas to make the N-Club a working force. This organization sponsors many projects for the school and the community like adopting Korean and Indian orphans, sponsoring a benefit dance and a basketball game for fellow classmate David Fritzinger, and honoring outstanding persons in the faculty for their achievements. The goal of the N-Club is to promote Northampton High School's three student endeavors — athletics, drama, and music. Work is divided among committees and every member does his share to make N-Club an active force. The enthusiasm and energy of the members make N-Club an important facet of student life.

Knitting Club

Knit one, purl two and off goes the Knitting Club under the competent direction of Mrs. Santee. From the knitting of socks for the men in their lives to the knitting of sweaters for the girls themselves, the club has knitted a vast array of warm articles. Strange and foreign sounding terms such as dropstitching, caststitching, and slipstitching can be heard coming from room 205. To those inside, however, such language is considered normal.

Chorus

The blending of melodious tones and harmonious decants in unison for their various performances is the job of the chorus. The members toil many hours trying to achieve artistic perfection of the many popular and classical selections they sing. But, chorus members feel that the long hours of practice are well worth the time to be able to sing in the Christmas Program and the Spring Concert. These performances are the highlights of each school year for the chorus and its contribution to NHS.

Concrete Courier

The student body at NHS eagerly awaits each issue of the Concrete Courier. Each issue combines the latest school news, editorials, and previews of coming events. The staff, under the direction of their new advisor, Mr. Boxer, meets twice a week to plan future issues. With Mr. Boxer's help, this year's paper has been unique in its handling of school news and has provided different outlooks in each issue. Each staff member works hard to present a well-rounded, interesting publication.

Photo Club

"Where is that fella?" has become a favorite slogan of the Photo Club. It is a very appropriate slogan because somebody or a club is always looking for a member of Photo Club to take pictures of an important school event. This constant cry keeps the members of the club frantically snapping, developing, and printing thousands of pictures. Without this energetic club, many of the school activities would soon be forgotten.

Student Council

"Democracy must be learned through experience as well as theory" is the motto of the Northampton Area Senior High School Student Council. Elected representatives from each homeroom meet faithfully the first Wednesday of every month to discuss such topics as social events, student problems, and student-administration relationships. It is through this organization that students learn that democracy does not imply license. Rather, it implies responsibility because democracy without responsibility is anarchy. Students at Northampton are very fortunate to be able to participate in man's most advanced form of government.

Future Teachers of America

Although the FTA Club is relatively new, its members have added challenging ideas to the areas of teaching. The main purpose of the club is to introduce the problems and advantages of teaching through speakers, discussions, and field trips to other schools. This past summer many members participated in the Head Start Program which gave them an even better view of the teaching profession. Hence, whether the club holds an annual tea for the new teachers, or participates in established programs, or gives each teacher an apple, all members benefit tremendously from the experience.

Gym Teams

Every spring a group of students exhibit their physical capabilities. This group of students is the gym team. Coached by Miss Kremus, Miss Yelenics, and Mr. Erdosy, the gymnasts show their outstanding ability on the apparatus, in floor exercises, and in a free-form routine set to music. After long practices, numerous falls, aching muscles, and bruised limbs, the team finally achieves an exceptional and praiseworthy performance.

Math Club

The Math Club is comprised of those outstanding math students who are going into the field or who merely enjoy exploring mathematics. Surveying, along with many other interesting and challenging concepts, takes up most of the club's time. Though the material the club members learn is quite difficult and complex, all agree that it is also very stimulating and enjoyable.

Creative Writing Staff

The Creative Writing Staff is rather small in size, but this does not minimize the immense task that yearly face it. The task is to publish a booklet in May that contains all of the best literary accomplishments of NHS students. Compositions and poems submitted by students are thoroughly screened for mistakes and rated to determine their publication worth. All of these tasks are time consuming and tedious, but the final result, an excellent creative writing booklet that displays the writing accomplishments of students, is a great reward for the members of the staff.

Archery Club

The Archery Club's main goal is to help develop body coordination and build an interest in a sport which a student can enjoy while in school, during summer vacation, and after graduation. A member of this club is quite easy to identify by the equipment he often has to bring to school. This equipment includes such things as a bow, arm guard, finger tab or glove, bow sight, and arrows.

Chess Club

The Chess Club is a relatively new addition to the extra-curricular activities. It was initiated for students who enjoy the game of chess and for students who are interested in learning how to play the game. Meetings during the week include discussions and practice of strategy and defense, and intra-club matches. These weekly meetings and matches help to prepare the members for the tournaments with area schools.

Projection Club

The Projection Club is an eager group of boys led by Mr. Kindt. Without their help, students would not be able to enjoy the various movies which teachers receive for class and assembly because these boys keep all audio-visual aids working smoothly and efficiently. They are always ready and willing to give aid in threading a projector, procuring various parts for it, and repairing it and all the items that come to them. The projection club is indeed necessary to help "project" the education and personality of the school.

Lighting Crew

A group of boys who really deserve a lot of credit is the Lighting Crew. This crew is needed for handling the backstage business during the regular assembly programs and during special evening programs presented for the public. It is also needed to handle the complicated lighting apparatus on the stage and in the lighting booth. Without these boys, many activities such as the Senior Class Play, Band Concert, and Vespers would be impossible to produce.

Senior Class Play

Early in December, Senior Class play rehearsals begin. At first, the actors are confused and very self-conscious. But, after many long and quite comical hours of rehearsals with Miss Wesley's constant screams of "Keep the action moving!" "Don't stop now!" "Move with more ease!" and "Learn your lines!", our band of merrymakers does succeed in giving a fine performance. This year's play was the Three Act Farce Pick A Dilly by Jay B. Tobias. The play is about the distribution of Jason Strong's estate as designated in his will among his greedy and jealous relatives. Suspense and terror are added to the play by the fact that an undertaker, Azariah Coffin, had once owned Strong's house. But, because of a rather unusual love affair with a young girl, Betsy Drake whom he kills, he goes insane and is kept in an insane asylum in a nearby town. The terror is heightened when it is discovered that Azariah has escaped from the asylum and is on his way back to the house so that he can continue his embalming.

SPORTS

Al Erdosy

Practices, touchdowns, and victories have comprised a vital part of Mr. Erdosy's football career. In the years he has been head football coach at NHS, he has led his team to several league championships. This remarkable record has made Mr. Erdosy one of the best coaches in the Lehigh Valley League, and to everyone at NHS, one of the best coaches in the world.

Football

This is the year for change at Northampton and this year's football team has proven that it is a change for the better. Led by the new coach, Mr. Lou Wolf, the Kids have compiled a record of five wins, three losses, and one tie. From a series of dismal losses, to a bright streak of wins, to a stalemate with Catty, the team has always tried to give their best performance.

In addition to Coach Wolf, spirit from the co-captains Larry Christoff, John Unger, and Tom Lopsonski, the cheers from the spectators and cheerleaders gave the team the extra effort it needed to complete an outstanding season.

Thus, the football team has added a plus to the Class of "69." Coach Wolf has shown his capable management of the team, the co-captains have set an example for a good ball club, and Northampton's followers have loyally supported the Kids for a winning combination for a winning year.

Basketball

With the courage and determination needed for a winning team, this year's Northampton squad surpassed all others in the Valley by winning their second straight Lehigh Valley League title over Emmaus. However, it was not an easy task for the Kids because they had to first defeat Catty for the second half title.

Of course, Mr. Nemeth and his assistants deserve credit for this success, for these men have done much to make Northampton a basketball powerhouse. But just as important as the coaches are the players: Captain Dan Marakovits, who was selected for the Lehigh Valley League All-Star Team; Larry Christoff, the Kid's big rebounder; Gary Stoudt, our transfer student from Northwestern; Mike Sugra, the astounding hook shooter; Ed Groller, the dribbling expert; and Steve Gabryluk, the great stealer.

This year's "69" team has given the players and fans a taste of victory's sweetness which they liked. Hence, look for many more championships in the future.

Wrestling

Strength, stamina, and agility are the combined qualities that characterize a championship wrestling team. The NHS squad, coached by Mr. Wall, definitely fits this description. This year, the boys continued to maintain the outstanding records our wrestling squads have had since the sport was initiated in the high school six years ago. They achieved this record by finishing the season with an impressive six wins and one loss, and an overall record of nine wins and five losses. They also showed their outstanding ability by tying for the league championship. This season will long be remembered for the individual accomplishments, such as Will Feichtl finishing the season undefeated, as well as for the outstanding team record compiled by seniors Greg Heist, Steve Schlegel, Jerry Hinkle, Larry Hantz, Donald Laury, and John Wolfer.

Girls' Hockey

This year's hockey team was willed with determination and enthusiasm. And even though there were many occurences that never appeared in the records: black and blue shins, sprained fingers, our goalie's inability to keep her temper, and all the other technical violations that every team commits, the members put forth their best effort. When the season was over and all the equipment was handed in, that is, except for the fact that the seniors traditionally keep their hockey sticks, hockey left many memories of a well-fought effort.

Girls' Basketball

Two girls in the center, the blowing of a whistle, and the outstretched arms of several players mark the opening of a girls' basketball game. After this initial play, the game takes on a furious pace. Any team not in excellent physical and mental condition soon begins to fall apart. But thanks to the coaching of Miss Kremus the NHS team has remained in top shape from the first scrimmage to the last game. Of course, to be in such a condition requires a lot from the players. Hard practices and workouts every day take their toll in aching muscles, but the precision that is attained cannot be matched. A great tribute should be given to Miss Kremus and her fantastic basketball team as it is truly one of the best teams that Northampton has ever had.

They said we offend!

Track

The spring season ushers in another facet of sports activities — track. The many events allow a maximum number of boys to participate in such skills as pole vaulting, high jumping, long jumping, sprinting, shot putting, and discus throwing. From past records, the track team has proved its superiority in district and state meets. Hence, we are certain of another outstanding season for our team this year.

Mr. Lisetski

Mr. Lisetski is another great coach who, as the head baseball coach for numerous years, has amassed several championships for NHS. Northampton owes Mr. Lisetski many thanks for the honors he has brought to the school.

Baseball

"Watch the ball!" "Steal!" "There she goes!" mark the vocabulary of a baseball team. Beginning early in March, the players practice long hours in order to become experts in the basics of a game which can be lost or won on a single dropped fly or a home run. However, despite the many handicaps such as sore thumbs, ripped gloves, and sprained ankles, this year's team is the defending Lehigh Valley League and District XI Champions. The team is coached by Mr. Oplinger.

Girls' Softball

With the arrival of April comes the start of the softball season. Although softball is a relatively new sport at NHS, it has been enthusiastically received by the students. In fact, so many girls went out for the sport that Miss Karg had trouble arranging practices.

As the season began, the girls experienced their first backaches, bruises, and sore thumbs. Even with these handicaps the girls displayed their fine talents on the baseball field and, more important, had a good time as they represented our school.

Row 1: J. Counterman, I. Kern, L. Dornbach; row 2: K. Weiland, C. Driesbach, J. Matthez, B. Eslinger, T. McKeever; row 3: J. Leigbeg, J. Cerva, G. Mohry, G. Hummel, C. Abelovsky.

Rifle Team

The rifle team is one of the few high school team sports that is open to both boys and girls. Perhaps it is this fact which has caused its rapid success at NHS. To be a member of this team, an individual must possess keen eyesight, quick reflexes, and steady nerves. Evidently this year's team must have persons who possess a large abundance of these qualities because the team has defeated many of its opponents.
